[illegible]

On the 1st of July 1864, the first of the great fire of London broke out at the corner of the street between the old and new churches, and in a few minutes the flames were seen to rise high into the air, and to spread rapidly in all directions. The fire soon reached the old church, and in a few minutes it was seen to be in flames. The flames then spread to the new church, and in a few minutes it was also in flames. The fire then spread to the street,
 and in a few minutes it was
 flames then spread to the street, and in a few minutes it was seen to be in flames.
