

Author: Anonymous

Text type: Verse, ballad

Date of print: 1681

Editions: Unknown

Source text:

Anon. 1681. Ye London Lads bee Sorry... The Brotherton Library, BC
MS Lt 34: fols. 27v-28r

e-text:

Access and transcription: July 2007

Number of words: 252

Dialect represented: Northern/Scots

Produced by Javier Ruano-García

Copyright © 2011– DING, The Salamanca Corpus, Universidad de Salamanca

——
Anonymous

Ye London Lads bee Sorry...* (1681)

Ye London lads bee sorry
Your Parliament Friends are gean
y^l mead yee aw see merry & Wade me lett us alean
but peach'd us eny yeane beath Papists & Protestants too
But they are for Oxford geane
& the De'als gean wth them I trow.

Geud King Charles he'an blesse him
Protector of Albany's Right
Recd frā y^m sike a lesson had like to ha put him in Fright But Charles he sware by his might he wade ha ne mare sike adoe & he pa[?]t them of by this light
And y^e Deale's gean wth 'em I trow.

Foole Jhin & halfe Witted Mordent

The Salamanca Corpus: Ye London Lads... (1681)

With Lovelace & flavoring Kent
Goggle Eye'd & fly catching Brandon
Who ne're yet knew w^t he meant.

But Stanford he followed y^e Scent Wth Politik Armstrong & How
but a Rope will crown y^e event
And y^e de'al's gean wth 'em I trow.

But Essex & Johnny y^e Cully
Were mickle to bleam I weatt & Shaftsbury y^e States Bully y^t owns y^e factions bratt & Witt all Gra[?] a geud deeds
Who Pimps till his Wife doth mow & hawds y^e dear for a need(s)
But y^e de'al's gean wth em I trow.

He'ens Protect great Albany
& save him from Pistoll and gun & fra the plotts of Anthony y^e little malicious baboon
Who had sheam'd y^e Pope of Roum
As Dugdale & Oates doo avow
And in time they'l hang a but y^e head
And y^e De'al's gean wth 'em I trow.