and developed the order, and the order of the archbishop constituted itself as a government, and the government decided that the oligarchs shall attack, and so it is done. And so it was done. And so it was done, because the oligarchs of course are against reform. And also, they are afraid of what they do, because no one is better informed about what is going on than the oligarchs. And they know very well, that if they do not do something, then they will be blamed for it. And so it is done.
