Señor Catedrático Antonio Jover, La Universidad de Salamanca, España.

My dear friend and highly respected colleague:

Within a few weeks I shall probably send to you, by registered mail, a ^{typed} copy of my recently finished translation of your excellent book: La Lengua Vasca*. I am planning to send it by steamer rather than air, as I think the former is safer, although it requires much more time.

Meanwhile, will you please send me, by air mail, the name and full address of the director of the International Anthropological and Linguistic Journal in which you published an article in 1953. It occurs to me that we might induce the "Foundation" which supports that journal, ^{to} ~~might~~ grant us a subvention for publishing the translation.

Yours most respectfully,

Herbert Pierrepont Houghton
